Nice, June 14th, 2016

Dear Mr Jun,

I have been informed with great pleasure that the City of Nice is competing to host the International Society for Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing World Congress - ISPRS 2020 - and I wish to extend my warmest support to this project.

Located in the centre of Europe, between the sea and the mountains Nice has developed in recent years, a genuine economic, cultural, artistic and architectural revolution... Creative, dynamic, cosmopolitan, young, Nice is bubbling with innovative realizations worthy of Europe's greatest capitals. Innovation is everywhere. Nice is on the move, constantly growing and evolving, always excelling...

Nice enjoys the advantage of a highly favoured location and it is the tradition of the Niçois people to share this privilege by offering a warm and hospitable welcome.

Our city would indeed be deeply honoured to host ISPRS 2020!

I would be very pleased to welcome your delegates for a reception hosted by the City of Nice and I can personally assure you that no effort will be spared to meet all your expectations in the organisation of the congress.

In the meantime, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

Philippe PRADAL
